(Home Alone • Teen Wolf • Mystic Pizza)

ABOUT

I am a writer and creator developing original television and feature projects spanning prestige drama, psychological thriller, mystery, horror, and political suspense. My work explores characters confronting forces larger than themselves—fame, mortality, obsession, history, politics, and legacy—while searching for identity, purpose, and connection.

My background as an entrepreneur, operator, and founder has shaped my approach to storytelling. I am drawn to complex characters, emotionally charged relationships, and worlds that feel both cinematic and deeply human.

WRITER'S VOICE

My stories focus on individuals confronting forces larger than themselves—fame, mortality, obsession, history, politics, and legacy.

Whether grounded in true events or elevated genre storytelling, I am drawn to the moments where personal identity collides with ambition, love, power, addiction, grief, and the search for meaning.

Across every project, the common thread is character: people navigating extraordinary circumstances while trying to hold on to who they are.

CURRENT PROJECT SLATE

NOISE & FURY

Prestige Anthology Drama Series

A character-driven anthology exploring the artists who defined a generation and the personal cost of fame, addiction, creativity, and legacy.

Season One follows Layne Staley and Jerry Cantrell as Alice in Chains rises from Seattle clubs to international fame while the bond that built the band is tested by success and addiction.
